Internal Revenue.

Report Made to the Secretary of the Treasury.

COLLECTIONS FOR THE YEAR.

An Increase Over Last Year of Over Six Million Dollars.—The Service in a Generally Satisfactory Condition.—Other Dispatches from the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The commissioner of internal revenue, Mr. Mason, has made his report to the secretary of the treasury on the operations of the internal revenue office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889. The total collections for the fiscal year just ended were $130,897,432.53, and this sum has been duly accounted for and covered into the treasury. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888, the total collections were $124,326,475.32, which compared with the collections for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1889, show an increase of $6,568,957.21.

The cost of collection for the fiscal year just ended will aggregate about $4,185,000 exclusive of the amount expended for the printing of internal revenue stamps, which is paid from the appropriation made to the bureau of engraving and printing and which will be shown in my annual report for this year. At this date it is impossible to state the exact amount of the cost of collection as some of the accounts belonging to the past fiscal year have not yet been received and the amount of such accounts has been estimated from the accounts of previous months, but when all are received and adjusted I do not think the total will vary much from the amount herein stated. The percentage of the cost of collection is a fraction less than 3.2 per cent, which is exactly the same as the percentage of lost for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888.

Owing to the great number of distilleries in operation during the last fiscal year, and the increased quantity of spirits produced, resulting in an increase of the taxes collected from that source as compared with the receipts of the previous year, of more than $5,000,000, as shown in the accompanying statements, the expenditures for the salaries of storekeepers and the fees of gangers were largely in excess of the amount estimated when the appropriation was made. The result was there was not funds enough to pay these officers in full for the month of June, 1889, and they have been paid up to the 28th ultimo only, leaving their accounts for the remainder of the month of June unpaid until an appropriation is made to cover this deficiency.

The amount of this deficiency is about $110,000 and has been included in the cost of collection, as above stated, so that it appears that the increase in the cost of collection, as compared with the previous year, is in exact ratio with the increased collections. During the past fiscal year examinations of the officers of the collectors of internal revenue have been made as frequent as was possible with the limited number of revenue agents at my command, and the reports of these examinations indicate a generally satisfactory condition of the service throughout the country.

North Carolina Congressmen.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—Representative Henry P. Cheatham, of North Carolina, said last night to a reporter: "I have noticed several articles published recently in leading journals of the country, stating that the North Carolina delegation of the congressmen were angry and dissatisfied with the present administration, would likely be disposed to 'kick' when congress meets. Now, in regard to the matter I can only speak for myself, I shall not allow any frivolous or personal feeling to govern my actions in the discharge of the grave and responsible duties which will naturally be required at my hands when congress meets. Politically I am a Republican. I was elected to congress by the Republican party, and upon Republican principles, and there is no question about my not cheerfully supporting the party in the organization of the next house and in every other particular for the good of the country. In other words, I want it understood in the beginning that I am no kicker. As for the administration 'it has treated me fairly, and I have no complaint to make.'"

A Valuable Flag.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—Some months ago a silk flag supposed to be the one that draped the casket of Abraham Lincoln during the journey from Washington to Springfield, was placed in a glass covered frame and given a prominent position in the office of the secretary of war. War department officials were not certain, however, that the flag was the one it was supposed to be, and an element of uncertainty surrounded its position in the secretary's office. Yesterday the uncertainty was set at rest by the discovery in the folds of the flag of a small signal by Adjutant General Townsend, stating it was the identical flag used to drape President's Lincoln's casket.

Our Gun Boats.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—Rear Admiral Belknap, commanding the United States naval force on the Asiatic squadron, reports to the navy department, under date of July 8, that the Omaha, the Marion and the Monocacy were at Yokohama, and the Palos at Chemulpo. The Marion was expected to sail about July 11 for Kobe, and thence to Chemulpo, relieving the Palos at that point. The Palos on being relieved would sail for Nagasaki. The Monocacy was undergoing repairs.

Getting Into Trouble With France.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—Minister Reid

has cabled the state department that he had taken the statement of three ladies, who were the victims of an alleged outrage committed by French officials at Montone, France. In a recent communication to the department, Reid stated that as soon as he secured these statements he would proceed to lay them before the proper authorities.

Another National Bank.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—The controller of the currency has authorized the Monroe National bank, of Monroe, La., to begin business with a capital of $5,000.

The President Returns To-Morrow.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—A private letter from Private Secretary Halford received at the executive mansion, states that the president and himself will leave Deer Park on Wednesday morning, arriving in Washington that afternoon. The president expects them to remain in Washington until his departure for Bar Harbor on the 6th of August.

No Yellow Fever at Tampico, Mexico.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—A dispatch has been received at the marine hospital headquarters from Dr. Combe who was sent to Tampico, Mexico, to ascertain whether yellow fever is prevalent there, on which he says: "Have carefully investigated rumors, have examined records and interviewed the profession here. No yellow fever here."

His Return Delayed.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—A telegram has been received at the war department from Secretary Proctor, now at his home in Vermont, stating that he will not be able to return to Washington as soon as he had expected, owing to an unexpected change in the condition of his son.

More Indian Troubles.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—The war department has received no information of reported Indian troubles in Washington territory.

The Swatara at Zanzibar.—WASHINGTON, July 30.—The United States steamer Swatara arrived at Zanzibar yesterday morning.

A PRIEST ASSAULTED.—He is Hit on the Head With a Stone While Kneeling in Prayer.—PITTSBURGH, July 30.—Rev. Father Speiser, pastor of St. Philomenas German Catholic church at Fifteenth and Liberty streets, this city, was the victim of an outrageous assault while officiating at children's mass Monday morning. While kneeling in prayer at the beginning of mass, a strange man arose from his knees and half crept along the aisle toward the altar, carrying in his hand a heavy bowlder. Before any of the audience, which numbered about 500 persons, mostly children, had time to utter a word of warning, or even surmise the design, the man hurled the stone with all his force at the praying priest.

The stone struck Father Speiser squarely on the head, inflicting two ugly gashes several inches in length on his scalp, from which the blood flowed in streams. The affair almost caused a panic, the children yelling and screaming at the top of their voices ran from the church. The assailant attempted to escape, but was captured and locked up. The wound on the priest's head is painful, but is not thought to be serious. The prisoner gave the name of J. Manning. Two hours after the assault he was sent to the work house for four months. He refused to give any account of himself.

Death of a Prominent Lawyer.—NEW YORK, July 30.—Joseph M. Walsh, a lawyer, died at his home yesterday from the effects of blows upon the head with a hammer in the hands of Frederick Hopp, a wealthy real estate dealer in Harlem. Walsh had a quarrel with Mr. Hopp, who was his landlord about a week ago. Both lived in the flat No. 437 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street. Hopp seized a heavy hammer and struck his tenant on the head. The landlord was arrested and gave $500 bail, a warrant for his arrest has been issued.

Enforcing the Sunday Law.—CINCINNATI, July 30.—Judge Ermon, of the Cincinnati police court, has announced that hereafter, in cases of saloon keepers violating the Sunday law, the bond shall be $300 for the first offense, $500 for the second, $3,000 for the third, $5,000 for the fourth and $10,000 for the fifth, and has so amended the routine in regard to taking bond on Sunday that in the event of wholesale violations only a very few cases can be attended to and many offenders would have to lie in the station cells all night.

Rolling Mill Men Strike.—POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 30.—The 600 employees of the Fishback rolling mill of the Pottsville Iron and Steel company have struck for $3.75 per ton for puddlers instead of $3.35, and for a corresponding advance in other departments. A sliding scale was offered but refused. The men claim that their wages were reduced 10 and 12 per cent. last February, with the promise of a restoration as soon as the price of iron should warrant it. The mill is shut down.

Kilrain Fleeing From a Detective.—HAMPTON, Va., July 30.—Jake Kilrain and his wife arrived here from Baltimore yesterday morning to escape Detective Morris, who had obtained the necessary papers for Kilrain's arrest in Maryland. His arrival here created considerable excitement. He registered at the hotel here under an assumed name and left town this morning.

English Syndicates.

Why They are Investing in Our Properties.

INVESTING IN REAL ESTATE.

The Continent of Europe Placing Its Wealth at London to Be Used in Profitable Investments in America—Why a Foreigner Failed to Buy Washington Real Estate.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—For some days past an Englishman, a member of one of the largest firms of solicitors in the city of London, has been the guest of a prominent Washington business man, who has made a fortune by dealing in real estate in this city during the last few years. The fact of the Englishman's arrival here was not chronicled in the society papers as is the general custom, and although he has explored the city pretty thoroughly in a carriage, on horseback and on foot, he has made few acquaintances. The object of the Englishman's visit was, however, leaked out in a roundabout way, and with it some information which may be of importance to financial and commercial communities. The Englishman is a real estate lawyer, and well up in matters relating to transfer of property. He came here as the representative of an English syndicate which is prepared to invest several millions in Washington real estate. His investigations convinced him that there is money to be made out of real estate in this city, and that he was preparing to make definite offers when he discovered to his amazement and horror that no alien could obtain title to real estate in the District of Columbia and the territories except a foreign government purchasing property to be used as a legation or other governmental purposes. This, of course, knocked the scheme in the head for the time being. The Englishman's host had a pardonable curiosity to know why the English were buying up every thing in this country on which they can lay their hands, and he asked him how it was there was so much capital lying idle in Great Britain. His visitor frankly said all these investments were not being made with British capital alone, but the entire continent of Europe was sending money to London to be invested in the United States. The money goes to London because that city is naturally the great financial center of the world. But France, Germany, Italy, and, in fact, the entire continent, is interested in the negotiations now pending in various parts of the country for the purchase of industrial concerns.

In the course of conversation the Washingtonian said he was surprised that Europe had so much surplus capital seeking investment, as according to the impression he had derived from reading reports of trade in Europe during the last two years no great institutions had been making a very great amount of money. And a great many of them he believed had been compelled to run on short time at a narrow margin of profit. The Englishman admitted the truth of the remark and went on to explain that Great Britain and the rest of continental Europe believed that it was only a question of time before all Europe would be involved in the greatest war the world has ever seen, and to provide for the proverbial rainy day money had been withdrawn from home investments so that it could be invested in this country.

The marvelous recuperation shown by this country since the civil war, and the way it had weathered domestic troubles, had convinced leading financiers of Europe of the stability of the American form of government and institutions, and they felt convinced that money invested here would yield a handsome return and the capital be perfectly safe. Another reason for seeking investment here is that in case of war the United States will alone profit by it, and in proportion as the trade of the rest of the world suffered, America would be the gainer. Consequently European investors in American enterprises will be gainers, and a part of the enhanced prices which they would have to pay for the necessities of life which would follow on the declaration of war would come back to them in the shape of profits from their American enterprises.

THE CRONIN SUSPECTS.

All Five of the Accused Men are Again Brought Into Court.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The five men accused of complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin—Coughlin, Beggs, Woodruff, Sullivan and Kunze—were arraigned in Judge Horton's court. All pleaded not guilty. In the cases of Beggs, Coughlin, Woodruff and Kunze, a motion to quash the indictments was made and entered. Sullivan's attorneys made a motion for a change of venue from Judge Horton's court to Judge Hawes or any other court that might be selected.

At the request of State's Attorney Longenecker Judge Horton postponed his decision in regard to the granting of a change of venue to Sullivan until 10 o'clock to-morrow, when the motion to quash the indictments and Beggs' motion for an immediate trial will be argued.

A QUEER SEQUEL.

Ida May Wilcox, of Minnesota, to Wed Henry Mylins, of Italy.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 30.—The announcement of the engagement of Ida May Wilcox, daughter of Charles Wilcox, of this city, to Henry J. Mylins, of Milan, Italy, has been made public. Mrs. Wilcox and her daughter sailed from Havre yesterday for New York. The wedding is to occur in this city about the middle of October. Mr. Mylins is an Englishman by birth. He resided six years at Adrian, Minn., where he was a member of the banking firm of Mylins Brothers.

Mr. Wilcox admits all of these facts, but has little to say concerning his daughter's elopement in January last. The newspapers of Jan. 29 contained an account of the arrest in Paris of a Dr. Sellon, of London, and Miss Ida Wilcox, 17, and pretty. They eloped from Nice, where the lady and her mother had been staying a month. The doctor had with him an 8-year-old son, and passed as an invalid in search of health. The young belle cashed a check from her father for $1,750, met Dr. Sellon at Mentone, and with him fled to Paris, where both were arrested.

Dr. Sellon protested that the girl was of age, and had come with him of her own accord. Ida refused to leave the doctor, and the entire party started back to Mentone by the next train. At the examination it was shown that the girl was over 18 years of age, and that, therefore, under the French law, Dr. Sellon could not be held for her abduction. Moreover, it was established that Miss Wilcox had run away of her own free will. The accused English physician was thereupon liberated, and this was the last of the affair that appeared in print.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—The worsted mills of Scheppers Brothers, this city, and the Yeaton mills at Chester, and Todmorton mills at Bancrofts bank, all of whom consigned their product to Lewis Brothers & Company, have closed down until the affairs of that firm are settled. The constitutional convention question should bring all voters to the polls next Monday. Remember those who don't vote in favor of it will be counted against it.

The Democrats have a majority in this State and county, but the voters must go to the polls and record that majority, otherwise it amounts to nothing. Every stay-at-home Democrat helps along the Republican case. Let there be none next Monday.

The State Journal, of Newport, very truthfully says: "It is the too-confident Democrat who will remain at home on election day, thinking the Democratic State and county ticket will be elected anyhow. Should there be too many of these over-confident individuals the ticket may be defeated."

In a note to the Louisville Courier-Journal Mr. David G. Colson, Republican nominee for State Treasurer, offers to give $5,000 if the statements in the recent sensational article from Pineville concerning his family are true. As some of the statements were published in the BULLETIN yesterday, we publish Mr. Colson's indirect denial of the charges.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "Hedges" [who was recently appointed Chief of Division in the Third Auditor's office] "was dismissed in disgrace from the service of the Associated Press last spring, and is a very contemptible specimen of humanity. But he did a great deal of dirty work for Benjamin Harrison during and after the campaign, and behold, he has his reward." It looks like there are plenty good Republicans in the country for all the offices without appointing such men as Hedges to positions in the public service.

APATHY.

That's What's the Matter With the Democrats—They Must Go to the Polls and Vote.

Governor Buckner and Hon. G. Mat Adams, Secretary of State, have returned from a tour of several counties in Southern Kentucky, where they made a number of speeches in the interest of the Democratic ticket.

To a Courier-Journal reporter General Adams said: "All through the State we found the greatest apathy, on the part of the Democrats, and we had to stir them up. In every place we were we held consultations with the local committeemen and with the leading Democrats, and impressed upon them the necessity for stirring themselves in the coming election. They seemed to think that certainly the Democratic party would be triumphant, but we can not afford to despise a party which has polled 150,000 votes as the Republican party has done. The Republicans are organized and will make a fierce fight, although Judge Sharp will be elected. The Republican leaders have promised in Washington that Kentucky would soon be Republican. Flushed with their National success, they will try hard to redeem their promise for this State at the coming election.

"Every Republican who is an applicant for Storekeeper, for Gauger, for Deputy Marshal and the hundreds of petty Federal offices are interested in the coming election, and will work tooth and nail for the party, for on their work that day the success of the thousands of Federal office applicants depends.

"Down the country we sounded the alarm and impressed upon our hearers the necessity of pulling together and getting a full vote, and all the Democrats in the State should wake up, stand by the party nominees and the party, and not only go to the polls and vote, but work to get out other votes. In the districts we have traveled through, we found all sorts of legislative and county races, and the interest taken in these will help Judge Sharp along and get him a fuller vote. The Republicans are going to carry the Republican districts, and the Democrats should see that they get out their full strength in those overwhelmingly Democratic."

The Portsmouth Blade doubts the BULLETIN's statement that the Handy No. 2 outran the Minnie Bay a few days ago. The BULLETIN's information is "straight."

Vote for a New Constitution.

What kind of an opinion would a foreigner form of the people of this State were a copy of our Constitution to come into his hand?

He would think that slavery still exists among us, and that we penitentiary people for teaching negroes to read and write, and that—but why refer further to the old rubbish, useful in the days prior to emancipation, but now a blot on the Constitution, which encumbers the ancient instrument? No wonder Governor Buckner was ashamed to send a copy with the American exhibits to the Paris Exposition. Vote "yes" on the call for a revision.—Exchange.

Mr. Editor: The following warning letter was sent to Col. Goodloe on the date named. It has not been heeded, and the Democratic party will profit thereby. Let the gang who has controlled the appointments against the active workers of the party attempt to carry this Congressional district again if they dare, especially if the dry goods merchant who has the Congressional bee in his bonnet is nominated. MAYSVILLE, KY., June 10, 1889.

Wm. C. Goodloe, Lexington, Ky.: As earnest Republicans who have party interest at heart, we deem it our duty to inform you of the following facts: There are a few Republicans in this city who will attempt to control the appointments here against those who have stood the brunt of battle. Included among them are old officials who have never turned their hands over for the party nor advanced its cause, and if permitted to carry out their scheme will ruin the party in Mason County.

Now, sir, we have no interest in this matter except party interest, and we invite an investigation by you; for we know it is your intention to further the interest of the party rather than jeopardize it. And we earnestly beseech you to consider this matter before acting, that no dissension may arise. Yours in good faith, and our best wishes for the success of the g. o. p., we remain
MANY REPUBLICANS.

THE MARKETS.

Tobacco.

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, proprietors Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on market for the week just closed amount to 3,148 hhds. with receipts for the same period amounting to 3,677 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 75,155 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1888, on our market up to this date amount to 53,376 hhds.

Receipts and sales continue large and the only change to note in the condition of our market during the week for burley tobacco is a higher range of figures for high grade goods; and we find it necessary to advance our outside quotations on select or wrapper tobacco, $25.00 per 100 having been realized on our market this week for the crop of 1888.

The continued wet weather is retarding the growth of the crop on the hill and grave fears are entertained in some localities that tobacco will take the spot if the weather conditions are prolonged for a week or ten days more.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco, crop of 1888:

Trash (dark) or damaged tobacco.....	2 50	4 00
Colony trash.....	4 50	7 50
Common lugs, not colony.....	6 00	6 00
Colony lugs.....	8 00	11 00
Common leaf.....	8 00	13 00
Medium to good leaf.....	13 00	18 00
Select or wrapper leaf.....	18 00	25 00

no impostor; reveals everything. Has long been pronounced in Europe and America the Another Accident.

Thomas Whalen, better known as the "Mocking Bird," was riding across Second street extension last evening about 5:30 o'clock, when his horse stumbled and fell, pitching him forward to the ground. He struck on his head, and when Mr. A. A. Wadsworth, Dr. John W. Cartmell and others, who were near by, reached him he was unconscious. Efforts to revive him were unsuccessful, and he was removed to Nash's Hotel. Dr. Owens was summoned and found that the fellow was suffering from concussion of the brain. Whalen was somewhat better this morning and was able to talk.

This is the third accident he has met with in the past year or so. He fell through the elevator at M. C. Russell's wholesale grocery house on one occasion but escaped without any serious hurt. A few months ago he was sitting on the railroad track up about Springdale with several chickens in his hand, when along came one of the fast trains. The chickens were killed but Whalen escaped with a few slight bruises. The chances are that he will die a natural death.

BADLY HURT.

William Heflin Caught in the Machinery at the Limestone Flour Mills.

His Escape From a Horrible Death a Very Narrow One—Particulars of the Accident.

William Heflin, eldest son of Marshal James Heflin, met with a terrible accident at the Limestone Flour Mills last evening a little before 5 o'clock.

His escape from a horrible death was a narrow one, as nothing but the prompt action of two of his fellow-employees and his own nerve and desperate struggles saved his life at the time.

He has been engaged about the place for several months learning the miller's trade. Last evening at the hour mentioned, he was on the first floor near where the bolter is operated, and noticed that a wooden spout or "conveyor" through which the flour is carried from the bolter to some other part of the mill had become "choked up."

He mounted a small ladder that is kept at the point named for use in such emergencies, and reaching over was in the act of opening the conveyor when the foot of the ladder slipped. It moved only a few inches, but it was sudden and unexpected, and threw him over against an upright iron shaft just to the left, that operated the bolter by means of some cog-wheels about a foot in diameter. Before he could extricate himself from his dangerous position his clothing was caught in two places, at the left shoulder and between the left knee and ankle. He realized his critical position, and that a horrible death awaited him unless he could tear himself from the strong grip of the machinery. But all his struggles seemed futile. The shaft and wheels, running about forty revolutions to the minute, drew him closer and closer, twisting off his clothing, then tearing off the skin, flesh and muscles until the bones were exposed.

As soon as he realized his danger he called for help. Mr. William Sauvary, head miller, had passed him only a minute or so before he started to clean the conveyor. Mr. Sauvary was at the west side of the room looking out of a door or window, only about twenty-five or thirty feet away but hidden entirely from view. The din about the mill drowned the cries for help. Mr. Sauvary's practiced ear, however, detected something unusual about the noise from the machinery and he started back through the room. He had gone but a few feet when he saw Mr. Heflin in the grip of the shaft. It was the work of but an instant or so to reach the belt and stop the engine in the room below. Before he could return to the scene of the accident, Mr. Heflin had wrenched himself away from the wheels and shaft and was found, supporting himself against a barrel. He was carried to another room, where his wounds were afterwards dressed by Dr. Browning, assisted by Drs. Phillips and Robertson, who had been hurriedly summoned to the scene. Later on he was placed upon a stretcher and carried to his home. He rested comfortably last night, considering his condition, and was doing as well as could be expected this morning.

His left arm was almost torn off at the shoulder, and the skin, flesh and muscles there and in the arm-pit stripped away, laying bare the axillary artery. This artery escaped only by a hair's breadth. Had it been caught and torn open, death would have followed in a few minutes. In addition to these injuries the left leg was almost entirely stripped of its flesh on the inside, from the knee to the ankle. No bones were broken.

Several articles of wearing apparel, torn from his person by his desperate struggles to extricate himself, were found tightly wound about the shaft. The accident recalls one somewhat similar that happened a few years ago when young Farley was caught in the machinery on the third floor of the mill and killed.

THEY SHOT "CRAPS"

And Then They Shot at Each Other—Two Wounded, one of Them Seriously.

Pleasantville, a "nigger" town near Helena, was the scene of a lively shooting affray Saturday night, the particulars of which were not received here until last evening.

Shooting "craps" has been a favorite pastime, it seems, with some of the denizens of Pleasantville, especially of Saturday nights when their week's labor was ended and they had a little loose change about their clothes. In the crowd last Saturday night were Tom Lawson, Henry Lawson and Bill Thomas. Things moved along smoothly until Tom accused Bill of stealing his pistol. Whether Bill had stolen the pistol or not, "deponent saith not," but he had a "weepon," and he was not slow in making that fact apparent to the crowd. Pulling his gun he opened fire on his accuser, and made things lively for a few minutes. When the smoke had cleared away it was found that he was pretty good at shooting pistols as well as "craps." Tom Lawson received a bullet in the stomach and is badly hurt. Henry Lawson caught a stray shot in one of his legs, which will serve as a reminder of the occasion for some time to come.

Thomas lit out immediately after the shooting, and has made himself scarce. He was still at large at last accounts.

THE POSTOFFICE.

It Will Be Moved to Elegant Quarters in the Cox Building To-night.

After to-day the people of Maysville will get their mail at the Cox Building, corner of Third and Market.

The postoffice will be moved to-night to the new location. Workmen were busily engaged yesterday afternoon and this morning fitting up the new quarters, and everything will be in readiness at the close of business this evening.

The office was removed from Court street to Sutton four years ago when Postmaster Resseus took charge. During Captain Hutchins' term it occupied a room on Court in the State National Bank building. Previous to that, while Colonel Stockton was postmaster it occupied the building adjoining the Stockton residence.

All will admit that the new quarters are much more elegant and commodious than any ever before used for that purpose in Maysville.

Railway News.

The Chesapeake and Ohio stock has been in great demand since the sale of the road to the Vanderbilts, having jumped from 18 to 23 cents.

It is now thought that Chief Clerk C. B. Ryan, of the Chesapeake and Ohio General Passenger Department, at Cincinnati, will change his mind about resigning to go into business.—Courier-Journal.

A bill has been introduced in the Georgia Legislature requiring every railroad in the State, when requested by the Railroad Commission, to make at least once each year an examination of its bridges, trestles and approaches thereto for safety of the public and to provide for the carrying out of the same.

Vanderbilt says he has not bought any interest in the C. & O. Pierrepont Morgan, of the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., says "the control of the Chesapeake and Ohio has been purchased by a syndicate of parties interested in the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway and others.

A Runaway.

A runaway horse created some excitement on East Second street shortly after noon yesterday. Rudolph Huntsicker, driver of one of Collins & Rudy's lumber wagons, was coming down town with a load of empty tobacco hogsheads, when the animal took fright at something and dashed west on Second, scattering the hogsheads along the street in the vicinity of Yancey & Alexander's stable. Mr. Henry Ort, at great risk to his life, seized the runaway by the bit, and soon succeeded in stopping the frightened animal. Nobody hurt except the driver, who escaped with some bruises on the face and arms. His injuries were dressed by Dr. Strode.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach, and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

For Teachers.

Another examination of teachers will be held next Friday. Those who have certificates but who have not been examined in civics will do well to consider the late law on that subject. An examination for colored teachers will be held Friday, August 9th.

Personal.

James Daly is spending several days with relatives at Washington.

Miss Carrie Hall has returned from a visit to Miss Maddox, near Mayslick.

Miss Anna Redmond and niece, Grace Redmond, are visiting relatives at "Camp Kenton."

Fashion Notes.

Foulard silks are in demand for summer dresses.

White dresses being in favor there are many white parasols.

In most cases parasols match the prevailing tint of the toilets.

A pleasing variation of the straight, full skirt was one laid in lengthwise tucks from the waistband to about half the depth of the skirt in front, where the tucking forms a point which gradually slopes upward at the side, running to about nine inches below the belt.

Horrible Situation.

Further Reports of the Hungarian Cyclone.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES LOST.

Rivers Filled with Floating Debris, in Which are Mingled the Bodies of Hundreds of Men, Women and Children—A Vast Amount of Property Destroyed. Other Foreign News.

VIENNA, July 30.—Reports of the havoc wrought by the cyclones which have visited southern Hungary within the last few days are constantly arriving and greatly add to the horror of the situation depicted by previous dispatches. The Danube, Theiss and other rivers are literally filled with floating debris in which are mingled the bodies of hundreds of men, women and children, together with the carcasses of animals.

Large numbers of churches and other large buildings and hundreds of small dwellings have been swept away, and along the banks of the Danube alone twenty-one large mills have been destroyed.

A large ferry boat plying between Pesth and Buda was caught in the storm and hurled against a steamship. The ferry boat was crowded with passengers, nearly every one of which were lost.

A circus pavilion was demolished at Szegeden, and a number of the spectators injured, some of them fatally.

Watched With Interest.

LONDON, July 30.—The investigation in New York in the case of the Murderer Kemmler, as to whether or not electricity can be relied upon to cause a prompt and painless death, is being watched with considerable interest on this side of the water. A correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette writes to that paper to say that whatever doubts might exist in America, there is hardly room here to question the certainty of the results of electricity if scientifically applied. Killing, he says, by electricity has been reduced to absolute scientific certainty, by the experiments of Dr. B. W. Richardson in his model abattoir at Croydon.

Who Did It?

DUBLIN, July 30.—Mayor Sexton has received President Harrison's reply to the message of sympathy from the Dublin corporation for the Johnstown sufferers. The president expresses high appreciation, and on behalf of the American people returns warm thanks for Dublin's sympathy and contributions. Mr. Sexton says the official envelope enclosing the letter shows signs of having been tampered with. The seal had been melted and the envelope refastened with another kind of gum, while the American crest was badly defaced.

Returns of the Election in France.

PARIS, July 30.—The election returns from 813 cantons show that 168 Republicans, 243 Conservatives and only eleven Boulangists were elected, and in eighty-nine cantons second ballots will be necessary. Further returns indicate that the Boulangists have succeeded in electing but twelve candidates in 1,200 cantons. The government supporters and officials are jubilant. The Conservatives have gained twenty seats. M. M. Wilson and L. Herisse are defeated.

No Limit to the Royal Family.

LONDON, July 30.—In the house of commons last night Mr. Marley spoke for his grants amendment, which requires a promise that no further grants shall be asked for younger members of the royal family. Mr. Chamberlain opposed the amendment, and Mr. La Rouchere advocated it. The amendment was rejected, 355 to 134. Mr. Gladstone, the Parnellites, and most of the Liberals, voted with the majority.

The Shah Ready to Return.

LONDON, July 30.—The Shah of Persia bade farewell to the queen at Osborne yesterday, and will take his departure from England very shortly.

ITALIAN RIOT.

Knives, Pistols, Picks, Shovels and Other Weapons Freely Used.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 30.—A report has reached this city that at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, a serious riot had occurred among some Italian laborers, engaged in laying a pipe line near lock No. 4 on the Monongahela river, about twenty-five miles south of Pittsburgh. The foreman in charge wished to transfer a gang of fourteen men from one part of the work to another. The men refused to go and a riot ensued. Knives, pistols, picks, shovels and other weapons were freely used.

One Italian was killed, another mortally wounded, and a number of others were seriously hurt. A posse of policemen were sent from Monongahela City to preserve the peace. All the men engaged in the affray were Italians.

A Strange Way to Suicide.

CHICAGO, July 30.—An unknown man apparently about 25 years of age, hired a row boat on the Lake Front yesterday, and after rowing about half way to the government pier, stood up in the boat and shot himself. His body fell into the water and has not yet been recovered. The man was about five feet seven inches tall, dark complexion and mustache, and was dressed in a black cutaway coat, striped pantaloons and wore a white straw hat.

A Despondent Editor.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—Edward Chamberlain, telegraph editor of The Republic, attempted suicide by morphine in his room at Barnum's hotel this morning, but was discovered in time, and it is thought, he will recover. Chamberlain came here from Cincinnati a short time ago. Despondency is said to be the cause.

Called to His Long Home.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 30.—Thomas P. Knox, a figure of the abolition days and a teacher in southern schools during reconstruction time, died in this city last evening, aged 63.

A DUAL LIFE.

The Recent Johnstown Flood Reveals a Startling Sensation.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 30.—One of the most startling sensations just brought to light by the recent flood is the fact that W. H. Overbeck, a prominent man and resident of this place for ten years; married here and was the father of several children, had a wife living in Philadelphia. He was well liked by everybody, and held a prominent position with the Cambria Iron company. His wife was of a respectable family, and no one suspected that he had been living a dual life.

Such however, was the case, as the Philadelphia woman has fully established her identity, and in addition she has three children born to Mr. Overbeck before he left her. Just how he managed to keep his Philadelphia wife away from here is not known, but he regularly sent her $20 a month from his wages. The case will likely now be taken into the court on account of Mr. Overbeck's insurance money, as his family here survived him.

GOT HIS WISH.

He Prayed God to Paralyze the Man Who Had His Pipe, and Dies of Paralysis.

DETROIT, July 30.—Several days ago Patrick Gallagher felt in his coat pocket for his pipe. It was not there, and its absence caused him to make a terrible wish. His wife reproved him. "Well, I don't care," he said. "Here, with this uplifted hand to heaven, I pray that my Creator will paralyze the man who has my pipe."

Before his utterances had died away Gallagher felt a severe twitching of the heart and complained of feeling unwell. A doctor was hastily dispatched for, and said that he had received a stroke of paralysis. Death ensued in a few hours. The grief-stricken family were at a loss to understand his sudden death. Saturday, in looking through his clothes, removed at the time of the paralytic stroke, they were filled with superstitious horror, for in one of his outside pockets was found the missing pipe, which had worked its way into the lining.

British Sealing Schooner Seized.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., July 30.—The sealing schooner Triumph arrived Sunday from Behring sea, bringing news of the seizure on the 11th inst. by the United States revenue cruiser Rush, of the British schooner Black Diamond, sealing in Behring sea. The Triumph had 800 skins aboard, but not having caught any in waters over which the Americans claim jurisdiction, was allowed to depart, and sailed direct for Victoria. The captain of the Rush said he had orders to seize any vessels found with Behring sea seals aboard. Seals are reported very plentiful. There is much excitement at Victoria.

The Law Unconstitutional.

STILLWATER, Minn., July 30.—William Fee, the Wisconsin farmer who sold dressed meats in this city which had not been inspected under the Minnesota state law, was discharged by Judge Munwaring yesterday on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the law.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The committee authorized by Typographical Union No. 6 to settle dispute between the compositors and newspaper proprietors, has submitted to the managers of the papers, an agreement making some slight concessions which was accepted, and the danger of a strike seems to be over.
